One person is needed each day for a two hour session. Stephen Williamson, the foodbank project manager writes: “Essentially we need people with compassion for those in need in our community; a little common sense and the ability to maintain confidentiality. They need the confidence to be able to pray with people and to be able to share their own Christian faith - this is very low key and not frightening but it is a central element of the project to show the love of Christ to our community.” If you feel able to offer some time to this project please contact Stephen on:01726 65315.
